BETTER MOUNTS FOR CAVALRY.

No side feature of the plan to better the martial equipment in this country could have more importance than attaches to the proposition to improve the breed of horses suited to the cavalry arm. Our troopers do not suffer by comparison with those of European countries until it comes to matching horse flesh. Then it is forced upon us that a regiment of foreign cavalry would prevail in a clash with our horsemen through sheer advantage of weight and speed of their mounts.

The American horse is tough and wiry, but lacking in other qualities essential to military service. Great Britain testified to the superiority of the American mule as motive power in field operations, and fairly taxed Missouri's resources during the Boer war, but showed a strong preference for horses bred on the Continent as cavalry equipment. All of the European governments of first rank maintain breeding establishments and encourage the rearing of thoroughbreds as a source of supply in time of emergency.

There is no question about our ability to equal Europe in point of merit as regards speed, for the American horse holds his own in any company on the turf. Kentucky and California are not surpassed in the production of their stock farms. What is needed is to import a nucleus of parent stock whose pedigree and adaptability will supply a long-felt want.

The Government now owns a breeding farm in New England, but the stock is not so well adapted to cavalry uses as it might be. The suggestion that the Morgan family of trotters likely would prove the best solution of the problem is not taken seriously. The idea of a dashing cavalryman mounted on a charger that could not get out of his own way is provocative of a smile, not to say a horse laugh. Our sad experience in the Civil War with cavalry of that make-up is calculated to make the military authorities shy at the Morgan proposition.—Washington Post.

To get your watch properly repaired, take it to Redhouse, the watchmaker, Masonic building, Alakea and Hotel streets.

COMMITTEES FOR CONFERENCE

President Knudsen of the Senate this morning appointed conference committees to meet members from the House to act on several important bills over which the two houses have so far been unable to agree.

Judd, Fairchild and Hewitt will meet the House committee on the tax measure, Senate bill 36.

Fairchild, Kalelopu and Robinson will act on House bill 85, the immigration measure, Kalelopu, Makekahu and Quinn will work with their friends from across the hallway on House bill 165, and Cecil Brown, Baker and Pali will handle the railroad bill, 259.

The Senate apportionment resolution is deferred till tomorrow.

The following bills passed third reading: Duties of clerks of courts of record, House bill 207; inheritance tax, House bill 248; punishing indecent assaults, House bill 260.

Chillingworth moved House bill 253 from the table and it passed second reading, having to do with the Kawaiwao sheriff.

PUPILS SCARED OF MEDICINE

Honolulu came near going Hilo one better on the school mutiny question this morning. A kiss is alleged to have started the rumpus in the Hilo High School, when all the children quit, but in the Honolulu Normal School it was soft soap that almost did the trick.

This morning fifteen children scampered home for fear they were to be given a nasty medicine to prevent their getting the cholera. Daine Rumor, the gossip liar, had passed the word, and her inspiration, according to one of the teachers, was born of innocent bottle of liquid soap with which the teachers wash their hands. A youngster said it was cholera medicine, and that all the children would have to take it. Hence the miniature exodus. Now their fears have been overcome and the children will continue to study while the hand that wields the ruler will not forsake its saponaceous appointment.

DEPARTMENTS ARE IN HARMONY

A general health plan was discussed at the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon whereby the city and Territorial officials will work in harmony.

E. Faxon Bishop registered an objection from the sugar planters relating to Filipinos brought here, the importation of laborers being interfered with by "harsh" rules enforced by the Board of Health. Arrangements have now been made, however, at Manila or the port of embarkation, so Filipinos may land here with clean bills of health, having been examined before leaving the Philippines. Bishop also wanted the personal examination of Filipino women and children done away with. President Mott-Smith appointed Doctors Hobdy, Baldwin and Pratt to investigate the matter.

Mott-Smith congratulated the city on the appointment of City Physician Wayson, and Dr. Moore as assistant. He hoped the city doctors would make it a regular thing to attend the meetings of the Board of Health.

The president went on to report what had been done in the anti-cholera campaign. He said that Federal Doctor Currie and Bacteriologist Clegg had been making a special investigation and they had determined that Manoa was the place of infection. The six cases in the present outbreak, and most other cases, were traced to pol made from Manoa taro. It was impossible to disinfect the whole of the Manoa stream, but the Board of Health was doing its best.

All of the S. S. Orteric's immigrants, except 437, were in quarantine. Seventy will be released at once. The immigration people were doubtful as to who would pay the quarantine bills. Dr. Clark in a letter suggested that provisioners should be warned against supplying quarantine guards with beer, as the board of immigration would not pay for booze. This was a surprise and nobody seemed to know that there ever had been any beer consumed in the manner reported.

President Mott-Smith reviewed for the benefit of the board the work that had been accomplished in the legislature for the cause of health. Dr. Pratt reported on the cleaning up of "The Gold Mine" camp near Iwilei.

This afternoon the health officers will make a tour of inspection with a view to enforcing the new anti-nuisance acts.

That there may be no misunderstanding as to pol shop regulations, the Board of Health will work along the lines of the city ordinance and all parties will confer and co-operate.

FACE CHOPPED WITH HATCHET

Charles Hall, recently thirty days in jail for drunkenness, a man advanced in years who formerly sold sewing machines, was early this afternoon dangerously assaulted with a hatchet. He accuses Anna, a Hawaiian woman of Nanau valley. His nose was split.

He was removed to the Queen's hospital and the police are now in search of the woman.

Hall claims that he was asleep when the woman chopped him with the hatchet. The woman's version of the story has not yet been ascertained by the police.

FAIR FOR CHURCH FOR KAIMUKI

A glimpse at the work being accomplished for the fair at Kaimuki to raise money to build an Episcopal Church there, will bring to mind the old adage, "So doth the busy bee improve each shining hour." The ladies of Epiphany Guild are working hard, and those in charge of the various booths are planning most artistic decorations, and a most novel and up-to-date fair is sure to be the result.

Two of the main features which those in charge wish impressed upon all those who attend are first of all, the articles for sale are to be marked at a very low figure, so that they will be within everyone's means; secondly, that change will be made at all the booths—no one will be stung.

A number of young folks are being drilled for an outdoor entertainment to which no extra charge will be made. So even though you purchase nothing, come and sit on the lawn under the big shade trees and enjoy the afternoon. Berger's band will be in attendance.

Admission to adults will be twenty-five cents and children ten cents. Mark your calendar now, Saturday afternoon, May 6th, on the beautiful grounds of Mr. A. F. Cooke at Kaimuki.

SIEGE ARTILLERY MOVED.

There was a long procession of mounted men in the streets early this morning, conveying a battery of siege guns from Fort Ruger to Schofield barracks. The guns did not look particularly formidable though their range is great and the weight of metal thrown is enough to crumble the defenses of the enemy. Besides the guns and caissons there was a small wagon train.

A band of gypsies have encamped down near the railroad depot. They are attracting a great deal of attention, their kaleidoscopic clothing especially being a feature of considerable interest.
